ANDREA BACCHETTI

... another very fine release to add to an already notable discography

... plays simply and directly, colour and nuance ...

Bacchetti is a spirited interpreter of Bach's keyboard music ...

Andrea Bacchetti collected suggestions by musicians as Karajan, Magaloff and Berio when he was still a child; at 11 years old he debuted with I Solisti Veneti, conducted by Claudio Scimone.

He plays in international festivals all over the world as Lucerne, Salisbury, Toulouse (Piano aux Jacobins), Lugano, Sapporo, Brescia and Bergamo, La Roque d'Anthéron, Milano (MI.TO), La Coruña (Festival Mozart), Pesaro, Ravenna, Warsaw (Beethoven Festival). Also, Bacchetti usually performs in prestigious halls: Konzerthaus (Berlin); Salle Pleyel (Paris); Rudolfinum Dvorak Hall (Prague); Rachmaninoff Saal, The Moscow State Philharmonic Society, Auditorium Nacional de España (cycle of Scherzo and CNDM), Teatro Real (Madrid); Musashino Concert Hall and Asahi Hall (Tokyo), Parco della Musica (Roma); Gewandhaus (Leipzig).

He played with several orchestras (Lucerne Festival Strings, Camerata Salzburg, RTVE Madrid, MDR Leipzig, OSI Lugano, Philharmonie der Nationen (Hamburg), OSNR Turin, ORF Wien, Filarmonica della Scala (Milan), Enesco Philharmonic (Bucharest); and with many conductors as Venzago, Luisi, Zedda, Justus Frantz, Lü Jia, Baumgartner, Manacorda, Chung (just to nominate a few names).

Concerts).

In his Johann Sebastian Bach production, the most remarkable records are the "Two-Part Inventions & Sinfonias" (CD of the month for BBC Music Magazine - September 2009); "The Italian Bach" (CD of the month for Record Geijutsu - May 2014); "The Keyboard Concertos" with the RAI String Orchestra (5 stars Musical Opinion, September 2016); "The Well-Tempered Clavier - book 2" (Supersonic Pizzicato, March 2022 - nominations ICMA 2023 cat. We remember also his fruitful collaborations with partners as Filippini, Prazak Quartet, the Stradivari Sextet from Accademia Nazionale di Santa Cecilia, Quatour Ysaye, Uto Ughi, Maxence Larrieu, Naoya Nishimura, Pavel Berman.

DISC OF THE MONTH Genius in Bach's smallest invention

The brilliant Italian pianist Andrea Bacchetti proves that not even the slightest of Bach's keyboard works should be overlooked, as MICHAEL TANNER discovers

"In these rediscovered scores of brilliant keyboard music Andrea Bacchetti combines his usual exquisite musicianship and colorful musical phrasing, full of life and fantasy, with commendable stylistic rigor. This CD confirms that Bacchetti is definitely one of the most interesting pianists in the Baroque repertoire."

scherzo LOS DISCOS EXCEPCIONALES

MARCELLO: Sonatas para piano. ANDREA BACCHETTI, piano. RCA 88697814662

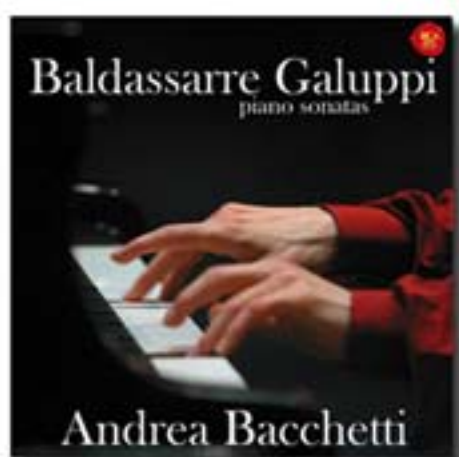

Un barroco bien articulado y de clara dicción, lleno de impulso y sutilidad; de buen gusto y vocación. Unas versiones discurredas desde la más absoluta sensatez y responsabilidad. E.B. Pg. 74

Amadeus I DISCHI MIGLIORI DEL MESE

... due opere che trovano in Bacchetti e Luisi gli interpreti ideali ... la lettura di Bacchetti rispecchia una lunga e meditata frequentazione con le opere di Mozart. Il tempo gli ha permesso di scavare a fondo in queste partiture, restituendone una registrazione in stato di grazia.

RCA 88697057742 Bacchetti (piano)

Andrea Bacchetti has given us several outstanding new recordings in the present volume (including an impressive DVD of Bach's Goldberg Variations), but none is more valuable than this set of Cherubini's Six Keyboard Sonatas, published in 1783 but probably written earlier (perhaps 1780). They are most engaging two-movements works, with a strong flavour of early Mozart, but with gallant touches to add charm.

Their invention is consistently diverse and in these captivating performances one is drawn to return to them often.

They are beautifully recorded and this is a disc to be snapped up before it disappears. Highly recommended indeed.
